

Terminal Land Action Still Pending Reply

The office of the Board of Selectmen has announced they have contacted the surrounding Town of Cambridge Belmont and Lexington regarding the proposed court action to stop the State from selling any more of the land that has been set aside for a proposed M. T. A. terminal.

The City of Cambridge has referred the matter to its planning board for study and will give a reply after further investigation of the problem. Belmont and Lexington have refused to do anything about the matter but will let Arlington and Cambridge have a free hand.

Reporting that legislation for transfer of MDC land to the MTA for a terminal had been allowed to die in the Senate Rules Committee, Rep. Keenan asked that the local board work with other towns to keep this land for use by the MTA when a terminal is passed.

While the bill was resting in that committee, the MDC transferred 11 acre of the land to a group of private citizens over the objections of the Board of Selectmen of Arlington, the Cambridge City Council and state representatives from Arlington, Belmont, Cambridge and Somerville.

Mr. Keenan filed a new bill calling for transfer of the remaining property at once to prevent further sale of the land. The House Ways and Means committee recommended further study with no protective clause. A second bill was filed by Mr. Keenan and sent to the Senate. The same action resulted.

Pay Raise For

Police Details

An amendment to the police rule regarding pay for outside details such as dances, parties, construction and meetings has been amended this week by the Board of Selectmen.

The amendment raises the pay as follows: Patrolmen will now receive $6.00 instead of $5.00 for a hour detail and for every hour or part thereof after four hours, $1.50; Sergeant will get $7.00 and $1.75 for every hour or part thereof after four and Lieutenants $8.00, and $2.00, for every hour or part thereof after four.

This raise in pay details was granted after a study which revealed that twelve of the surrounding cities and towns have a pay program similar to the one passed Monday night.

Retired Fire Chief Daniel B. Tierney is one of an ever-increasing number of people who do not believe in retirement. He's turning his talents to fresh fields in serving his community this fall as chairman for Arlington of the Red Feather campaign.

A familiar figure to his fellow townsmen, Chief Dan has the advantage of knowing his home town well. He is not organizing his volunteer corps for the campaign with an eye to a final enrollment of nearly 500.

Arlington has a real stake in this vital appeal to help meet the operating expenses of Red Feather services in 1951. In addition to the many out-of-town services upon which its people depend, there are the local Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Boys' Club, Social Service League, Visiting Nurse Association, St. Agnes Conference of St. Vincent de Paul and St. James Branch of the Catholic Woman's Guild.

Another office which Chief Tierney holds close to his heart is his

A California soldier was killed, and his girl companion critically injured Sunday night in one of the five accidents which occurred in Arlington over the long labor-day week-end.

This death marked the third fatality this year resulting from automobile accidents.

Officer Henry Bradley reported a Plymouth convertible coupe owned by James J. Metz of Bayside L. I. and driven by Albert J. Flesch, 22, of Los Angeles California was proceeding inbound on Massachusetts Avenue when it struck the M. T. A. safety island at Lake Street.

Flesch was removed from the car and rushed to the Symmes Arlington hospital in an unconscious condition in the police ambulance while the girl, Ruth Druhan, 21, of 72 Allston Street, Cambridge, was removed from the car by Captain Robert Mahoney of the Fire Department. She was taken to the hospital in the Special Service wagon.

Police reported that a telephone operator called headquarters at 12:38 p. m. Sunday morning informing them that the ambulance was needed at the Capitol theatre, as there had been an accident there.

The playoff game for the championship of the 1950 AYA senior baseball league will be held at Spy Pond field on Saturday afternoon at 2: p. m.

The league stands all tied up with the Tigers and Red Sox both having won a game and a game under protest.

The protest board will meet this week and vote as to whether or not they will uphold the four point protest issued by coach Ed Mulcahy of the Red Sox following the last game.

If the protest is upheld it is reported the inning and one half under protest will be played after the scheduled nine inning game providing the Tigers win.

Should the Tigers lose the game they will lose the series and the protest will not be played off.

Church Afire!! !! Holy Smoke !!

Tuesday afternoon an excited man rushed into Police headquarters and hurriedly reported that the First Baptist Church was on fire. Officer William Scanlon rushed to the phone which connects the police and fire departments and informed them of the blaze.

The fire gong rang out the box number and Deputy Charles Flynn, seeing visions of the 1924 blaze which gutted the edifice, sped his men into action.

Every available piece of apparatus rushed to the scene and as they neared the church smoke could be seen pouring across the Avenue.

The engines and ladders roared into the church yard and hoses and men made ready to squelch what appeared to be a conflagration in the back of the church.

Deputies Flynn and McGreevy, Captain, Cuniff, Lt.'s Donahue and Mahoney with two reporters sped to the back of the church to map and report operations.

Lo and Behold—a very smoky dump fire burning where it could do no damage!!!

Everyone connected with the incident spent an hour getting their nerves under control especially the

Kidder Named Chairman Of GOP Finance Group

James W. Kidder of 215 Broady St., Arlington has been appointed Arlington City Chairman for the Massachusetts Republican Finance Committee, it was announced today by State Chairman Walter E. Robb.

A graduate of Massachusetts Institute of Technology, he has been a member of the School Committee since 1936 and a Town Meeting Member for six years.

In accepting the post, Kidder told Robb that, "we must tell the voters of the dangers which face them, unless they replace present Democratic party maladministrators for leadership we can all respect and trust."

As chairman, Kidder will build an organization which will help raise the funds necessary for an effective campaign by Republicans candidates in the coming fall elections.

will be a decisive winner if his expected Arlington strength, particularly in East Arlington, votes on Primary Day, Tuesday, September 19th.

Purcell has been building his organization in the other sections of the district for the past few weeks and is pleasantly surprised by the enthusiasm with which his candidacy has been received.

Civic leaders and thousands of voters throughout the Town who believe Purcell has been a capable, honest, and industrious executive as a Selectman, have pledged their support in the all out campaign now underway.

day and in many instances the sessions extend into the evening. Therefore, a faithful performance by a representative requires full time attention, uninterrupted by the responsibilities of other political offices.

A representative should have a clear knowledge of the law in order that he may understand the laws and present laws in the interest of his district.

"Furthermore, a representative does not have any authority in city government. His authority and his power exists only in matters of state government.

"Another responsibility of a representative is active participation in the legislature to secure for the citizens of his district the benefits which the state grants to the people of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

"But, above all and especially in these times, it requires a man of the highest integrity so that in time of pressure he will not betray the voters of his district for personal enrichment or political favor.

"Such, in brief, are the responsibilities of the state representatives. It remains to the voters of this district to exercise their privilege of voting and elect a man who is qualified to represent them.

"By failure to vote or by despairing that your vote cannot accomplish anything—you fail in your duty as a citizen and you permit corruption in government to continue."

The Sixth district is made up of Arlington, Winchester, Woburn and wards two, three, four and six of Medford.

Shaughnessey is now serving his second term in the Woburn City Council and last January was elected president.

Mr. Shaughnessey promises impartial progressive representation to the people of the sixth middlesex district and feels that by education, training and experience in public life he is qualified to be the logical candidate as your senator.

Thomas A. Shaughnessey is a veteran of World War 11 having served three years in the Pacific theatre of operation and is now a civil engineer.

Honored By CDA

At a recent conference of the Massachusetts Catholic Daughters of America, Miss Catherine A. Dwyer, State Regent, announced the appointment of Mrs. Edna Lavery as a District Deputy for the next two years.

The officers and members of Court St. Agnes of which Mrs. Lavery is a member are pleased by the honor accorded their Court and extend congratulations and good wishes for success to her in her new duties.

history and government required in high school; University of Massachusetts enlarged and to improve local schools, the State is authorized to contribute up to 65 percent of the cost of community and regional schools. I supported each of these Bills.

"Discrimination in the employment of those between 45 and 65 years of age has been prohibited. This is a very worthwhile and beneficial piece of legislation and Massachusetts is the first State to enact it into law. An increase of $4.00 monthly in old age assistance payments for 93,000 was put into effect. I voted for each of these worthy causes.

Rowland Submits Answers To Women's League Of Voters

My answers to the League of Women Voters of Arlington on August 21, 1950, are as follows:

Question 1—What, in your opinion, has prepared you for the public office you now ask, by way of: Education, Civic Activities, Public Service.

Answer 1:—Education
Lawyer 39 years; admitted to practice in Massachusetts Bar January, 1911 — to the Federal Courts 1917.

Civic Activities
Over 40 years actively before Local and State Legislative Committees, introducing bills in the interest of all wage-earners. Author of House Bill No. 1081 filed in 1947, for Community Property Rights for married women, to enact a law to give women Equal Rights with men, in all aspects.

This Bill would also save the tax payers in Massachusetts over one hundred million dollars annually.

Public Service
Three (3) years legal assistant 1933 and 1931.

Two (2) years General Counsel in liquidation of 18 closed banks, 1935-1936.

Three (3) years Assistant Attorney General, 1946, 1947 and 1948.

Question 2—This is the picture of state expenditures in Massachusetts for 1949.

Would you increase the share for education? If so, how?

Answer 2—Yes.

Decrease taxes paid to Federal Government. We pay over one billion and a half dollars to the Federal Government annually.

Elect more women to the Legislature and Congress. Until this happens do not look for any improvement in State or Federal

Red Cross To Hold Classes

The American Red Cross is planning to conduct a series of classes in home nursing, beginning on Monday September 18th at 2:00 p. m.

The classes will be held at the Robbins Junior Library Hall two afternoons a week for three weeks with Mrs. Hilda W. Tait R. N. in charge.

Registration will begin at 1:30 p. m. on September 18th. Further details may be obtained by calling Mrs. Tait at AR-5-4660-R.

Government. 1,000,000 more women voters than men voters on voting list.

It can be done—if women wake up and assert their rights.

I have a wife and nine children, five daughters and four sons. The four sons and one daughter all volunteered in World War II. The four sons went over-seas.

WINS SCHOLARSHIP

Miss Barbara Lake of 121 Mount Vernon Street, Arlington has been awarded a scholarship in physical therapy by the National Foundation for infantile paralysis.

Miss Lake has recently completed a period of affiliation at the Robert Breck Brigham Hospital in Boston

Arlington Park Dept.

The finals of the Town Softball League between the Elks and the Bombers will be played at North Union Street Field this Thursday evening, September 7, 1950, and next Tuesday evening, September 12, 1950, at the same field. The Elks placed first in the American Division of the League having defeated Kiwanis and the Downing A. C. in the quarter and semi-finals. The Bombers placed second in the National Division of the Softball League having defeated both the Rawson A. C. and K of C in the quarter and semi-finals.

Considerable interest has been evidenced in our Softball Playoffs and the games during the coming week should prove most interesting. The Bombers have been the Town Champion in 1948 and 1949. The Elks are heavily depending upon their ace pitcher, Chet Ludka, to stop the Bombers this year.

Schedules have been received from the Metropolitan Boston Amateur Softball Assoc. assigning the Arlington K of C to play against the Boston YMCA this Saturday September 9th, at 2:45 P. M. at Rotary Field in Quincy.

The Arlington Elks have been similarly assigned to play Howard Johnson of Quincy at Perkins Field in Quincy on this same date. These two entries from Arlington are participating in the Metropolitan Boston Amateur Softball Playoffs.

The Town Bowling League met in the Hearing Room, Town Hall, Arlington, Tuesday evening to organize league activity for its fourth season under the sponsorship of the Arlington Park Commission. The league is scheduled to begin activity at the Arlington Recreation Alleys on Tuesday evening, September 19th, and Thursday evening, September 21st. Sixteen teams comprise the league; 8 teams in each division of the league. At the present moment no new entries will be accepted by the Park Commission.

as part of her training in physical therapy. She will continue her education at the Boston University Sargent's College for Women in Cambridge where she will enter as a senior next week.

The Bells Are Ringing For??

The Arlington police spent a few exciting moments on three different occasions over the week-end chasing burglar alarms.

The alarm sounded at the Harvard Trust on Friday afternoon. Police discovered it had been set off when the safe doors were closed.

Friday evening, the alarm sounded from the East Arlington Five cent savings bank. Investigation proved an employee had accidentally set off the bells.

Saturday the alarm at Thibaults sounded for a break but this again proved false.

Art Collection On Display At Robbins Library

A selection from the most important prints in the Robbins Art Collection will be hung in the small gallery of the Robbins Library in Arlington from September 9th to October 7th. The group of 32 prints will represent many of the important artists in the history of graphic portraiture.

The Robbins Art Collection consists of about 150,000 prints, almost all portraits; it was given to the town of Arlington by Mr. Winfield Robbins (1841-1910) who also bequeathed money for the building of the Town Hall in memory of his father, Amos. The print collection is housed in the Robbins Library which was built by Mr. Robbins' aunt in memory of her husband, Eli, the business partner of Amos Robbins. Mr. Winfield Robbins traveled extensively in all parts of the world during his lifetime. In the course of his travels he acquired this collection of prints which he presented to the town as he acquired the parts. Upon his death he bequeathed money for the care of and for additions to the collection.

Such a large collection made up of portraits alone inevitably has many prints that are of little artistic importance. These have been arranged with emphasis on the person represented rather than on the artist. This part of the Collection is valuable primarily for research.

The prints in the exhibit come from the smaller part of the Collection: the portraits done by the great artists in the history of graphic arts. Most of the well-known artists are represented, many in sizeable numbers. The Collection has numerous woodcuts taken from some of the earliest printed books.

Anthony Van Dyck, the famous portrait painter, etched some of the finest portraits ever made; the Collection owns his original etchings as well as a complete set of the Iconography, the series of portraits done by other engravers after his sketches. His Dutch contemporary, Rembrandt, is represented by three portraits, one of which hangs in the show. Examples of all artists working in the great school of engraved portraiture founded in France during the seventeenth century were acquired by Mr. Robbins. Robert Nanteuil, the leading master of this school, is one of the best represented artists in the whole Collection; it owns 40 of his prints. During the same century there was an active though less important school of portrait engraving in England; the great names of this group—Feuilliot, Marshall, and Robert White—are represented as is the Bohemian etcher working in London at the same time, Wenzel Hollar.

One of the best represented schools of portraiture in the Collection is the eighteenth century English mezzotinters. Mezzotint is a special technique which was developed to the highest degree of subtlety by this school. The evolution of the movement can be easily studied since the earlier workers in this manner, i. e. the Fabers, the great

LITTLE THINGS about the Stars

By GEORGE LILLEY

NEW YORK, N. Y.—Sixteen years ago actor Ronald Colman issued a sincere statement: "I shall never make pictures in Hollywood again." He was resigned to the belief that his movie career was over.

Ronald Colman ... lured

For most of those 16 years, Colman had another phobia. He could not go on the radio. He didn't feel he was too good for the radio business. Retiring, quiet spoken, he felt radio was too good for him. Jack Benny broke the ice, luring Colman and wife Benita into guest appearances on his program. Then along came Don Quinn, creator of Fibber McGee and Molly, with a superb script. The result: "The Halls of Ivy" (college setting), a deftly humorous piece starring the Colmans Wednesday nights, NBC. On since January, it is ending its first season recognized as one of the best, if not the best, new radio comedy of the year. It will return in September.

24-HOUR HONEYMOON

Oh, for the life of a radio actress! "Yeah?" asks pretty Teri Keane. And with good reason. The gal hardly has time for anything. Fact is, between busy schedules, it took Teri and actor John Larkin three months to get married. But they finally made it—even worked in a 24-hour honeymoon—before returning to New York for their air shows on a recent Monday morning. Among other five-day-a-week roles, Teri is the heroine, "Chichi," on NBC's "Life Can Be Beautiful." Larkin's numerous appearances include a daily stint as "Miles Nelson" on "Right to Happiness." Someday, they hope, they may get a longer reprieve from the microphones. But, at the moment, it doesn't look likely.

men of the school, John Raphael Smith and Valentine Green, and some of the later workers such as the Wards and Charles Turner are represented. Examples of the less important etchers of the nineteenth century are numerous; some of the better known artists are also represented: Zorn, Legros, Bracquemond, and Meryon. Finally such later, more advanced, artists as Nicholson, Vallotton, Toulouse-Lautrec, and Redon are represented.

In the field of American graphic work artists from Peter Pelham and Edward Savage to Currier and Ives and the twentieth century artist John Sloan are found. The Pelham print is a late impression of his "Cotton Mather", the first mezzotint to be made in the American colonies.

"PORTIA'S" PROBLEMS

"Portia Faces Life," NBC's top-drawer radio serial, is beginning its 11th year of broadcasting. In that time it has rated invariably among the top 10 daytime programs, frequently one, two or three. Energetic Mona Kent, who likes to putter with flowers and gardening, prepared the early scripts and still writes the show. Capable, smart dressing Lucille Wall continues in the lead role, a part she has played, with the exception of several months when she was confined by an injury, since the program's inception. "Portia" is a brilliant lawyer who would rather be a good housewife. In her effort she has had her troubles. Among them: widowhood; support of a young son; a second marriage; temporary loss of her second husband (amnesia); the necessity of defending him in a murder trial. On the horizon, they say, is another black cloud.

NOTES ON MARY JANE

"When a Girl Marries" (afternoon, NBC) is another of the top-ranked serials. It celebrated its 11th year on the air last May. In the Hooper-Nielsen charts it usually has rated among the first four daytime programs. Petite, blonde Mary Jane Higby has been the show's star ("Joan Davis") since its beginning. Daughter of the owner of a stock company, Mary Jane did her first "walk on" part at the age of one. Mary Jane Higby She was making ... columnist, too movies in Hollywood at six. Highly trained, versatile, the star occasionally plays supporting roles to herself on her own program. More recently Mary Jane added another role: that of columnist. given in marriage by her father. The mass was celebrated by the Rev. John Broderick of the Immaculate Conception parish.

Miss Lillian Ribeira was maid of honor and she was gowned in an aqua dress with an aqua coronet headpiece. The best man was Henry Rush, brother of the groom and the ushers were Francis Silva of Arlington and Carlton Cummings of Cambridge.

The bride and groom are on a wedding trip to New York City and upon their return will reside in Somerville.

Mr. Rush is a graduate of the 1944 class of Stevens High School in Millinocket and the bride of the 1949 class of Arlington High.

PRACTICE TOUGHENS WITH ONLY TWELVE DAYS TO GO BEFORE SOMERVILLE TEST

By FRANK MAHONEY
Football practice went into its third session this week with an opening practice on Tuesday afternoon. Coach Henry Toczyloski said activity would really get into full speed now that the holidays are over.

A scrimmage session was held in the rain at Beverly last Friday with each team running the ball for ten minute periods. Beverly has a strong club but an inexperienced one. However, many errors showed themselves in the Arlington offensive and defensive work.

The big error seemed to be position. On many of the plays both offensively and defensively the Arlington men constantly were out of position. Toz is planning to concentrate practice on correcting this mistake.

The big news of the week was the appearance of a three letter, 172 pound six foot junior, a transfer student from upstate New York. It is reported he played with a New York High School six man team for two years and was captain of the team in his second year. He has played only one year on an eleven man squad. The coaches asked that his name be withheld until they can see him in action.

The Touchdown twins, Red Salisbury and Don O'Brien, both recuperating from a summer sick list, are really working themselves into shape. It is hoped they will have even a more successful year than the past championship season.

Coach Paul Dorrington of Woburn has reportedly said Arlington should only lose one game this year. Some speculation reigns in the Arlington coaching quarters to this remark.

Toz gave this reporter his views on how some of the players look on the field of action. Here are the results:

Dick Kelly at tackle worked down from 230 pounds to 212 and is really getting himself into good shape. Toz says he has worked all summer long in preparation for the 50 season and is doing well.

Moose Muello, last years sensation at full back, looks terrific in the blocking department. His running is improving too. He's just got to get those knees up there.

The scrimmage list is rather bare with Saugus scheduled for this week. The coaches are really burning wires in an attempt to line up more scrimmage games.

The starting lineup of the first twenty two men is going to be kept under wraps until shortly before the September 23rd game with

Blood Must Go To War

While GIs are suffering in Korea, the healthy at home can help by donating blood to ease their pain.

Through the visit of bloodmobiles here or through the Red Cross Blood Center at 314 Dartmouth st., Boston, donations can be made that will be flown to Korea where Army medics will help the wounded in their fight for life.

Blood Center donation hours are Mondays, Wednesdays and Thursdays from 11 a. m. to 5 p. m., and Tuesdays and Fridays from 2 p. m. to 8 p. m. Registrations in advance can be made by calling Copley 7-6930.

Neighborhood groups, veterans associations, civic and fraternal clubs all are being urged to recruit and make donations which will help the soldier who was wounded.

Regular shipments of blood are being stepped up, and donations must be increased by at least 25 per cent. Civilian needs are also being filled for the ill and injured here.

Medical records of the late war reveal that wounded servicemen who were given transfusions were saved by the thousands. The Army says "the use of plasma in on-the-spot treatment of combat casualties is a glorious story in the history of medicine in war."

With war wounds producing from 70 to 80 per cent shock cases, the fractions made from plasma which include serum albumen help these men. This fraction is made from blood which can be made available only through the generous contributions of the healthy.

Donating is an easy and effortless procedure and the time to contribute a pint of blood takes an hour and as one donor this week put it—"it's time well spent when it help save the life of my brother who is over in Korea."

Easing the suffering of the wounded is one good reason for donating as well as performing a patriotic duty for the men who are now in the fighting lines.

"Newspaper headlines about the war in Korea in themselves should be sufficient reminders of our duties in donating blood nor the men who are spilling it," said another donor this week. He pointed up the feeling "the need is great."

can be tested for admission to first grade. Many educators believe admission to school should be based on mental age, not chronological. During the past seventeen years, many Arlington children have saved a year in school by attending Bartlett first grade where they have been fully prepared to pass successfully examinations required for promotion into Arlington second grade. Many other Arlington pupils have attended the Bartlett second, third, and fourth grades. In past years, many pupils who were having difficulty in school work have gained a reassuring mastery of reading and other fundamental subjects by attending this school where small classes insure individual attention.

There are six large classrooms fully equipped with colorful furnishings. A spacious grassy playground has all types of play apparatus. Premises are certified by the State Department of Public Safety. School now open for inspection. Limited enrollment. Transportation is provided. Re-
